Delta Electronics, Inc., founded by Mr. Bruce C.H. Cheng in 1971, is the world's largest provider of switching power supplies and DC brushless fans, as well as a major source for power management solutions, components, visual displays, industrial automation, networking products, and renewable energy solutions. And also known as an OEM for a number of brands in the home computing industry, the computer enthusiast sub-culture for PC components routinely comments upon Delta as a high quality brand in areas such as power supplies and cooling fans. Delta mission statement is to provide innovative, clean and energy-efficient solutions for a better tomorrow, thus, they focus their role in addressing key environmental issues such as global climate change, and continue to develop innovative energy efficient products and solutions.

In recent years they have transformed from a product provider toward a solution provider and their businesses now encompass power electronics, energy management, and smart green life. Delta's brand promise "Smarter, Greener, Together." encourages the development and broad application of smart, energy-efficient solutions. And they devoted to innovation and systematically developing new products and technologies, particularly those that are high efficiency and energy saving, and invests over 5% to 6% of their groups' annual sales revenue in R&D. They have worldwide R&D facilities in Taiwan, China, Thailand, Japan, the U.S., and Europe. Their national honors for innovation include the Taiwan National Industry Innovation Award (2008 and 2012) and the Thailand Prime Minister's Industry Award (1995, 2010, 2011, and 2012).

Throughout Delta Group's history they have received many global awards and recognition for their business, technology, and corporate social responsibility. In 2012 Delta was selected for two of the prestigious Dow Jones Sustainability Indexes – the DJSI World Index and the DJSI Asia/ Pacific Index – for the 2nd consecutive year. Delta was also ranked first among the 29 leading companies in the Electronic Equipment sector and named as "Sector Leader" for the first time. Since 2010, Delta has received 47 internationally recognized design awards including the iF, Reddot, CES Innovation, Computex Best Choice, and Taiwan Excellence awards.

Delta will continue its dedication to developing technologies and solutions that aim to reduce global warming and ensure mankind's sustainable future.
